Pursuant to the decision of the School's Academic Assembly of 30 June 2020, and given the unpredictable epidemiological situation and situation with teaching areas, the Dean's Executive Board decided that the compensations of practical lessons will not be held during the rest of the academic year 2019/2020. However, the exams (physical or online) will be conducted as specified in the previous decisions. Each respective department will decide on the method and form of the compensation of its practical lessons in the next academic year.
